

Railway Resource Centre Intranet

The Australian Railway Historical Society New South Wales Division has established a Railway Resource Centre at Redfern. Contained within that collection are thousands of publications and other material which is available for research.

The public is welcome to avail itself of these facilities.

To improve access to the popular resources, an on-going programme has been established to digitise material and make it available for viewing on their Intranet.

Listed below is the material currently available at the R.R.C. for research through this facility.

A small access fee is charged.
